

MY PERFECT START PAGE:

I have a lot of pinned pages, so I guess organizing that would be a nice beginning.

- A space for university-related links (Moodle, Pack, Kide, Lunch Menu, Kela, etc);
- A space for other courses that I currently engaged on (or at least that I buy with the intention of take the classes at some point);
- IMPORTANT: a space remembering the date that some subscriptions are going to end;
- A space with easy access to my social media/website/freelance pages, etc;
- A space dedicated to list some useful tutorials;
- A space for Substack pages/another websites that I like to check from time to time;
- Useful websites related to health system (in Finland/Tampere);
- Space dedicated to useful references sources/fonts/palette;
- News websites from Finland/World/Brazil;
- Google Translate box;
- Space dedicated for streaming and news from cinema;
- Wishlist (links from things that I really want to buy);
- To-do list with checkbox;
- Quick access to Finnish language course/Duolingo;
- Quick access to some simples games or maybe even a quick snake-type game on the page;
- Daily curiosity (like random Wikipedia page every time you open the browser);
- Reminder of drink water and straight my back;
- Clean visual, with not much contrast (maybe pastel colors or different tons of grey/b&w, nothing much stimulating) - it would be nice to have some kind of changing color scheme;
- Browser pet?
- Space to put quotes from books / list of books that I read;

IMPORTANT: Need password to access the bookmark page - it opens clean, but to make it work, you need to put your password (if u don't, you'll only have the browser pet walking around).

(It seems too optimistic to be honest, but a girl can dream.)
